Mayoral forum scheduled for today

Omaha Together One Community will hold a mayoral forum at 3 p.m. today at Holy Name Catholic Church, 3014 N. 45th St.

The three leading candidates for mayor — Hal Daub, Jim Vokal and Jim Suttle — have been invited to the forum. Only Suttle had accepted as of Saturday afternoon, said Pat Cafrey, an OTOC spokeswoman.

The forum will focus on public safety issues, including neighborhood revitalization, police-community relations, alternatives for youths and jobs.

OTOC is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization that describes itself as multiethnic and interfaith.
